

What are NelsonNet and the NelsonNetBook?

NelsonNet is your protected portal to the premium digital resources that are provided for selected Nelson student books. Separate access is provided for students and teachers, with teachers able to access both student and teacher material. Resources include worksheets and tests, quizzes, videos, animations and, in many cases, a NelsonNetBook eBook.

NelsonNetBook is an eBook platform developed especially for the Secondary school context, friendly to Interactive Whiteboards, computers and iPads. Being web-based, a NelsonNetBook can be accessed from anywhere, at home or school, with “hot spots” on the page to link to accompanying digital material. With optional Web 2.0 functionality, it allows teachers to set up class groups to share teaching notes and additions and to actively use the eBook to manage a course, while students can personalise their own copy with the addition of highlights, annotations, audio clips and weblinks. NelsonNetBooks and their digital supplements are accessed through NelsonNet.

Password protected NelsonNet and NelsonNetBook

Privacy for NelsonNet and NelsonNetBook users is protected through individual and school registration and authentication:

- For student resources on NelsonNet, the student uses a student access code (once only) for product authentication and, if a first-time user, to create a personal NelsonNet password.
- For teacher resources, the teacher uses a teacher access code (once only) for product authentication and, if a first time user, to create a personal NelsonNet password.
- For the NelsonNetBook, teachers and students need an additional school code for authentication. As with access codes, the school code is only required once, after which the teacher or student will be recognised by their password. Teachers need to issue the code to students.
- Most student access codes come with the printed student book and can be purchased separately from educational booksellers. For some titles, student access codes continue to be available from your school's Nelson Cengage representative.
- Teacher access codes and school codes are provided only to adopting schools and are obtained from a Nelson Cengage representative.
